

ALJOSCHA LENNERT TENOR

In the summer of 2023, Aljoscha Lennert makes his Salzburg Festival debut in a new production of Martinů's The Greek Passion. From the 2023/24 season, he will join the ensemble of Aalto-Musiktheater Essen, where his repertoire covers Berg's Wozzeck, Mozart's Le nozze di Figaro and Wagners Tristan und Isolde.

Born in Nuremberg, he studied at the University of Music and Performing Arts in Frankfurt am Main (Thomas Heyer) and graduated in 2021 from Hanover Hochschule für Musik, Theater und Medien (Marina Sandel). Master classes with Peter Berne, Helmut Deutsch, Brigitte Fassbaender, Stefan Vinke and Camilla Übersaer complement his training. He has received scholarships from the Richard Wagner Association and Live Music Now Hannover and been awarded first prize (master/solo class) in the 2021 competition at Hanover Hochschule für Musik, Theater und Medien.

A member of Theater Osnabrück from 2021 to 2023, he performed in new productions of Martinů's The Greek Passion, Rathaus' Fremde Erde and Strauß' Die Fledermaus as well as the title role in Mozart's La clemenza di Tito. As Tito, he made his debut at Mainfranken Theater in Würzburg in 2023.

In 2022, Aljoscha Lennert made his debut at Aalto-Musiktheater Essen. At Staatsoper Hannover he performed Andonis in Martinů's The Greek Passion, Second Priest and First Armed Man in Mozart's Die Zauberflöte and Fourth Jew in Strauss' Salome from 2019 to 2021. In 2020, the tenor performed Michel in Martinů's Julietta at Hanover Hochschule für Musik, Theater und Medien, where he had previously sung the Dance Master in Strauss' Ariadne auf Naxos. From 2016 to 2018 Aljoscha Lennert appeared as a guest at Theater für Niedersachsen in Hildesheim. While still a student, he was a regular at Oper Frankfurt.

Aljoscha Lennert has worked with directors including Theu Boermans, Benedikt Borrmann, Sam Brown, Ute M. Engelhardt, Frank Bernd Gottschalk, Tamara Heimbrock, Barbora Horáková, Philipp Kochheim, Maurice Lenhard, Jakob Peters-Messer, and Simon Stone.

As a concert soloist, Aljoscha Lennert has sung an extensive repertoire including works by Bach, Beethoven, Britten, Bruckner, Charpentier, Dvořák, Gounod, Handel, Haydn, Janáček, Mendelssohn, Mozart, Orff, Rossini, Saint-Saëns, Spohr and Telemann.

The tenor performed under the baton of conductors including Cameron Burns, Simone Di Felice, James Hendry, Andreas Hotz, Maxime Pascal, Valtteri Rauhala, Michele Spotti, Eduardo Strausser, and Stefan Zilias – and was accompanied by orchestras including Wiener Philharmoniker.
